To whom it may concern, which is everyone!

My husband and I are dismayed at the amount of time and money spent to ruin a successful American company that is providing jobs, helping the economy, etc. It appears we have been pulled in to favor competitors. This is not governments job.

As other companies are developing software etc. it appears to even us as novices that they aren't going to be the dominating force in the market. Settle. Let everyone get on with business and life.

We can not help wondering if we paid as much attention to our foreign policy as we do to stopping an American business company if we wouldn't be a lot better off.

Pouring money and most of their efforts into law suits can ruin any company. And why? Let's settle and move on.

Thank you for your help in this matter.
